

The New Covenant; The Last Will and Testament of Christ

To My beloved child, _____, whom I love and cherish deeply; the one I've had on My heart since before I formed the earth and its foundations. You've been My joy since the beginning, and My love for you is eternal. (Ephesians 1-3)

This letter comes to you upon my death to announce and disperse the rightful assets of your inheritance into your personal care. You have now been legally adopted and brought close by My intentional sacrifice. I want you to remember that this is a time of celebration, for this is not the end, but just the beginning. It was necessary that I carry the weight of death and bleed out on Calvary, so as to legally break the stronghold of our enemy from your neck and deliver to you, the endless treasure of my Holy Spirit. He is the ultimate advantage of power for the sake of your today and your eternal tomorrow.

So, upon My death, burial and resurrection, the following promises are the foundation of our New Covenant together:

1. From this day forward, you are no longer a slave, but a son (Galatians 4:7) and as such you will have no need for anyone to speak to you on behalf of the Father, for He will speak directly with you Himself (John 10:27). He will give when you ask, He can be found when you seek Him, and He will answer when you knock. (Matthew 7:7)
2. You no longer have need for second-hand stories to tell of who the Father is, for He has been revealed through My exact imprint. To know Me is to know Him, and to know My word is to encounter Me as I am. You have access to a full view of your Triune Family; Father, Son, Holy Spirit. (John 14:9-10)
3. You are no longer a beggar, a popper, or an orphan; All things belong to you, you belong to Me and we belong to the Father. (1 Corinthians 3:21-23) You have unlimited access to every resource, treasure and provision that you'll ever need to face every day on earth and for eternity.
4. The mysteries of the kingdom are now revealed to you through both spoken and written word. You will now come to understand the mystery of your identity, unity, resurrection, inheritance and Kingdom principles. With this knowledge will come abundant wisdom if you ask and receive it, you'll never lack the eyes to see or the ears to hear if you so choose. (1 Cor. 2:10, James 1:5)
5. You will now be awakened to the Father's will through My life; you are because I am. You are saved, because I am Salvation. You are righteous, because I am righteousness. You are holy because I am Holy. You are powerful, because I am Grace Power. I have placed everything inside of you, it is up to you now to seek it out. (John 15:5)
6. You can rest now. You never have to strive or perform for the Father's acceptance and love again, it's yours; infinitely yours in Me. You can rest in Me; you can cast your burdens upon Me; I will sustain you and relieve you. It's okay, you never have to be anxious or worried again; The work is done, the enemy defeated. (Hebrews 4, Matthew 6)
7. The treasure chest is open to you; you are free to seek, mature, learn, grow and become ALL that We have placed inside of you since the beginning. Your life is now filled with infinite purpose and possibilities, what you do with it is your choice. You are FREE! (Galatians 5:1)

In closing, I want you to remember that you are God's workmanship; His beautiful poetry spoken into existence to express His heart and establish a piece of His kingdom in your own unique way. What God has put inside of you is for a people, for a time, and for a purpose. Through the identity of your divine DNA, you have been given every resource you need to walk in the good works He has created for you with success and progress. The world may not recognize you as you truly are, and even if they do, it's likely they will try and stop you, discourage you, confuse you, or manipulate you to distract your course... don't retreat! Remember who you are, remember your inheritance, remember your Father and remember the blood of Christ that purchased you back from the dead. Rise from the ashes, shake off the dust from your feet and keep marching.
